WACC is people—people who have an interest not only in obtaining an education but also in building a college capable of giving that education.
A student will explore opportunities which will lead him to a place in life.
He will find himself drawn into the college atmosphere and will quickly learn that everyone at WACC has a special personality. Students are friendly and outgoing; professors and administrators both are more than willing to help students in their quest for learning. Some colleges are just buildings in which people go to study. But at WACC education doesn't only occur in all of our buildings but also between the students as well. WACC is People. We are WACC!

Dedication

Dennis Róbison is one of WACC's kind of people. Born August 14, 1950, he resides in West Springfield, Pennsylvania. One of seven children, Dennis graduated in 1969 from Northwestern High School in Albino, Pennsylvania. He is now enrolled in the Business Management Curriculum and is interested in sports broadcasting. While attending WACC, Dennis works in the library three days a week from 5:30 to 9:00 in the evenings.

Dennis feels that people are what makes WACC important: teachers, secretaries, janitors and students, all working together to make the letters WACC stand for a respected, caring institution. He feels that as the years go by, WACC and its reputation can continue to grow. As a student, Dennis hopes that together with his fellow students he can help make WACC a source of pride and happy memories.

The amazing part of this story is that Dennis is winning his battle with multiple sclerosis, a battle which has left him with virtually no use of his legs. We feel that he has already won the war.

Students at WACC in a late election select lovely Amy Burns this year's Fall Queen. Amy is a 5 foot, 4 inch, 120 pound sophomore. She is nineteen years old and comes to WACC from Phillipsburg, Pennsylvania. Amy is enrolled in the Business Curriculum.

The many moods of Amy Burns are captured on the opposite page.

The Mummer's Parade

WACC wins a second place prize in the Annual Mummer's Day Parade with the float Disney On Parade. Better than 100 hours were logged in preparing the float, a Student Affairs project, for the once-a-year celebration.

The Association

Cherish is what we do when we remember the Association concert.

The highlight of Fall Weekend was the Association. A capacity crowd enjoyed an unforgettable performance in concert.

The Bloodmobile Visits

WACC students are the number one donors to the American Red Cross Bloodmobile in Lycoming County, supplying over one fourth the amount of blood needed to keep the county in Priority One. The fall visit netted 502 pints.

The Spotlight

On the opposite page the Spotlight staff gathers for a meeting. Front row, from left to right, are Virginia Trowbridge, Mary Ann Alsop, and Sylvie Warhacz, Sports Editor. The second row has Patricia Olszewski, Agatha Fairlee, Walter Steinbacher, Photography Editor (That's Ralph in Walt's lap); and Sharon Zeyn, News Editor. In the third row, there is Dave Gulden, Dorothy Hood, and Ron Elliot. The fourth row has Ed Connelly and John Schultz, Feature Editor.

Below, John Schultz and Ron Elliot ponder a problem.

On this page, Walt Steinbacher and John seem to be listening to Advisor Sloan O'Donnell lecture about meeting deadlines.

The Montage

Staff

The Student Government Association

Elected officers of the SGA are pictured above in a meeting with Dr. Kenneth Carl, far right. From left to right, are Julie Schroyer, Treasurer, Debbie DeAngles, Secretary, Keith Walborn, President, and Rich Colegrove, Vice-President. In the photo at right, the SGA is pictured in action. Missing from this page is Dawn Wahler, who was appointed Treasurer during the spring semester.

Advisor Chet Pryor and Phobe Sechler sell goodies for the local chapter of the Student Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Mr. Paul Goldfeder, advisor, puts Tom Smith to work at an outing at the Goldfeder home.
